Teaching methods

Lecture

Extra information on the teaching methods

Interactive course: as the course is lectured to a relatively small group of students, participation of the students in the class is requested.

This implies that students answer questions related to the discussed topics and apply the rules in specific circumstances. Question time will be organised as well as possibilities for additional discussion.

The structure of the courses will allow students to adequately function in a business environment as the course will guide students to develop necessary skills to solve problems to enter the profession as well as problems related to the practice of the profession.
