Keywords

Visual art in the Low Countries, history, Baroque, 16th century, 17th century, 18th century

Position of the course

This course is about the arts of the Baroque in (mainly) the Northern and Southern Netherlands from the late sixteenth until the eighteenth century. The developments and context of Baroque art are discussed on the basis of highlights and key moments.

The course structure is thematically. Much attention is devoted to contextualization.

Contents

Every class is devoted to one aspect of Baroque art in the Netherlands, visual arts in particular. Developments in the Northern and Southern Netherlands are compared and positioned in a wider European context. New insights and methodologies are elaborated upon.

Initial competences

Insight in early modern European history and art history.

Final competences

- 1 To have advanced knowledge of the visual arts in the Baroque period in the Netherlands
- 2 To have advanced methodological insight into the Baroque period of art history in the Netherlands.
- 3 To be able to contextualize baroque art and to define a problem correctly.
- 4 To be able to reflect critically and creatively on the visual arts.

5 To be able to present the results of one's own research, both orally and in writing.
