Position of the course

This basic course wants to help students acquire insight into the French language as a research object. An important part of the course is devoted to syntax: students learn to develop skills in language analysis and acquire insight in modern methods of analysis. Moreover students learn some basic concepts in lexical semantics and learn to use the most important reference grammars and dictionaries, which they are able to compare in a critical way.

Contents

- Introduction to French syntax: principles of (functional) analysis at sentence level and exercises; basic principles of constituent analysis.
- Systematic study of the word: morphology, word classes and lexicology (focusing on lexical semantics).
- Introduction to some historical and sociological aspects of French language
- Introduction to the most important reference grammars and (types of) dictionaries; critical comparison; basic heuristics of French linguistics

Initial competences

Knowledge and skills in French corresponding to those of 6th year high school pupils ("eindcompetenties secundair onderwijs").

Final competences

- 1 acquire a solid conceptual grid comprising the basic concepts of research in French linguistics w.r.t. the analysis of the clause, clause combining, word classes, morphology and lexicology
- 2 to apply the reference grid presented on new data
- 3 acquire a (passive) knowledge of a broad array of syntactic structures and usages of words
- 4 understand in which respect modern linguistic (hence scientific) approaches of language differ from those of traditional prescriptive grammar
- 5 to be able to use grammars and dictionaries in an effective way
- 6 to have a clear understanding (on the basis of comparison) of the global structure and specificity of the most important reference grammars (and dictionaries).
- 7 to accept that linguistic structure allows often for various analyses
- 8 students have the relevant skills to identify relevant publications on a specific topic and to locate them within in the UGent libraries
- 9 students know where French is spoken, which varieties exist and which other languages are spoken in France
