Keywords

Continental philosophy, ethics

Position of the course

The course provides an in-depth overview of the continental (moral) philosophical tradition and introduces some prominent thinkers from this tradition by means of close reading of key texts.

Contents

- 1) The classes start with a brief overview of continental philosophy since 1750.
- 2) The content of the group tutorials may differ each year. Texts of important continental thinkers (e.g. Hegel, Marx, Kierkegaard, De Beauvoir, Marcuse, Habermas, Fanon, Ahmed etc.) will be subjected to indepth analysis.

Initial competences

Having taken the courses 'Historisch overzicht van de wijsbegeerte', 'Wijsgerige ethiek: Systematiek', 'Geschiedenis van de hedendaagse wijsbegeerte' and 'Filosofische vaardigheden en methodiek' or possessing equivalent competences. Active knowledge of Dutch, English and French is required.

Final competences

- 1 Being able to read, analyze, paraphrase and assess influential primary continental philosophical texts in a critical and independent manner.
- 2 Being able to recognize, explain, compare and evaluate critically the moral philosophical ideas of influential continental thinkers.
- 3 Being able to recognize and name the social, cultural and political historical, and the general philosophical determinants for the development of the continental ethical tradition.
- 4 Being able to evaluate the relevance of continental ethical problems and solution methods for contemporary ethical debates.
- 5 Being able to formulate and ground a substantiated point of view, both written and orally, in an informed and clear manner.

Examination methods in case of periodic assessment during the second examination period

Oral assessment

Examination methods in case of permanent assessment

Skills test, Participation, Assignment

Possibilities of retake in case of permanent assessment examination during the second examination period is not possible

Extra information on the examination methods

Three parts are evaluated: 1) the written assignments, 2) the group tutorials, 3) oral exam.

The criteria will be explained in detail during the introductory plenary class.

The deadlines for submitting the preparatory reading assignments need to be respected strictly.

Calculation of the examination mark

1) Calculation: Preparatory assignments: 4 points out of 20; Group tutorials: 9 points; Oral exam: 7 points.

2) If one does not participate in the evaluation of one or more of the three parts or if one does not obtain at least half of the max. mark for each of the three components, one cannot pass this course. If the total endscore would be a mark of ten or more on 20, this will be reduced to 7/20.

3) Anybody who is absent more than twice without a justified ground in the group tutorials, will be considered to not have participated in this part of the course, and consequently will not be able to pass the course.

4) Anybody who has not passed and wishes to obtain a credit for this course the following year, must resit all the parts of the exam (preparatory assignments, group tutorials, oral exam).

Facilities for Working Students

1. Student attendance during educational activities is required

2. Feedback can be given during an appointment during office hours
