Keywords

Spanish Golden-Age Literature: Don Quixote

Position of the course

This is an advanced literature course focused on Miguel de Cervantes' masterpiece, Don Quixote. Special focus on situating the novel in its intellectual and historical context and on the development of close reading and analytical skills.

Contents

The course will focus on close readings of the two parts of Miguel de Cervantes' novel Don Quixote. Lectures will situate the work in its historical, literary, artistic and intellectual context.

Topics to be considered may include:

- the social and political history of Golden Age Spain and the social critique of the novel
- the relation between the novel and other literary genres: books of chivalry, Greek romance, the pastoral novel, the Petrarchan tradition, etc.
- metanarrative elements in the novel
- the representation of religious 'others'
- the relation between the novel and the visual arts
- the reception history of the novel

Through interactive exercises, oral presentations and written assignments, students will improve their listening, reading, speaking and writing skills in Spanish.
