Position of the course

This advanced course provides the students with more in-depth knowledge of the Dutch language system, more specifically of phonetics/phonology, morphology, lexical semantics, and the structure of the compound sentence, including word order.

Exchange students can take this course, provided that they have an advanced knowledge of Dutch (C1) and that they meet the beginning competences described below.

Contents

The lectures consists of three modules. The first module deals with the syntax of the compound sentence, including word order. The second module focuses on the word as a unity of form and meaning. The third module offers an introduction to the phonology and phonetics of Dutch.

Exercises: coached exercises on phonetic script, distinctive features (phonology) and the syntax of the compound sentence.

Initial competences

To have a profound knowledge of the syntax of the Dutch simple clause.

Final competences

- 1 To be familiar with the elementary terminology of Dutch phonetics and phonology.
- 2 To have a good insight in the structure of the Dutch phonemic system.
- 3 To be familiar with the basic rules of Dutch word formation.
- 4 To be able to analyse complex words in a morphologically correct way.
- 5 To be familiar with the basic concepts of lexical semantics.
- 6 To have a good insight into the principles and tendencies that determine the word order of the Dutch clause.
- 7 To have a good knowledge of the syntactic, semantic and pragmatic characteristics of different sorts of compound sentences in Dutch.
- 8 To be able to analyse compound sentences, both positionally and relationally.
- 9 To be able to provide a phonetic transcription of a standard Dutch sentence.
