Position of the course

This advanced course deals with the main developments in the theater of the Spanish Golden Age. Through a selection of both canonical and non-canonical texts the course highlights the versatility of the genre. Special attention will be paid to the representation of gender and race. The course will also develop skills in close reading and text analysis.

Contents

The course examines the main trends in the development of Spanish theater in the Golden Age. The following topics may be discussed:

- Theories of drama during the Middle Ages and the Renaissance
- The impact of Lope de Vega and his 'Arte nuevo de hacer comedias'
- The wide variety of subgenres within the dramatic genre
- The political and social aspects of theater
- The original performance context of the plays
- The role of women as actresses and authors
- Lope de Vega, Tirso de Molina, Calderón de la Barca, Andrés de Claramonte, Ana Caro, Maria de Zayas, Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz
- Rhyme and meter in the Spanish drama
- Modern reception and performances of plays from the Golden Age

Initial competences

- Fluent speaking and writing proficiency in the Spanish language
