Position of the course

This first of three methodological courses introduces students into the practice(s) of academic research, and teaches them various scholarly skills.

Contents

The course familiarizes the students with the necessary steps to set up a scientific research (formulating a problem and status quaestionis, looking up scientific literature, summarizing and processing it into a bibliography, use of a style sheet, scientific use of language in Dutch and two Slavic languages).

Initial competences

Competences acquired in the secondary education. To have successfully completed the courses Russian II and Bulgarian I, BCS I or Slovenian I or to have acquired the necessary skills by other means.

Final competences

- 1 To formulate a short research problem and research question (based on a state-of-the-art).
- 2 To recognise different research domains and methods within Slavic and East-European studies.
- 3 To make use of bibliographies and digital databases.
- 4 To detect and list sources in a bibliography using a style sheet.
- 5 To report on and summarise academic research.

- 6 To use the acquired language knowledge receptively and productively.
- 7 To uphold the basic principles of scientific integrity.

Extra information on the examination methods

Continuous assessment consists of a number of assignments throughout the course: critical summaries; scientific language in the Slavic study languages; research proposal; other shorter in-class assignments.

Calculation of the examination mark

Continuous assessment makes up 100% of the final mark. It comprises:

- Two critical summaries of scholarly lectures in Slavistics and East-European studies (10%).
- Scientific language in Russian and the South-Slavic language of choice (30%)
- Research proposal (20%)
- In-class scholarly assignments: summary, state of the art, bibliography, research problem (40%).

Facilities for Working Students

1. Possible exemption from attendance. For the in-class assignments, a compensatory assignment is required.
 2. Possible continuous assessment on a different time in the same academic year.
 3. Feedback can be given by email or by appointment.
