Keywords

Internship, internationalization, practice experience

Position of the course

Students do an internship abroad or at home with one of the department's internship partners in order to acquire pre-professional working experience.

Contents

Based upon a preliminarily delineated task list the student will be integrated into the daily professional activities of an internship partner of his/her choice. The content of the tasks will be defined in consultation with the internship partner and is related to the student's specific skills: language proficiency, cultural and historical knowledge, economic knowledge, internationalization, intercultural communication, business communication, PR etc. The student's performance will be evaluated on the basis of a written internship report and oral discussion on the one hand, and by the internship partner on the other.

Initial competences

To have successfully completed the courses of 'Hindi', 'Modern Chinese', 'Modern Japanese' or 'Arabic language acquisition' in BA3 or to have acquired the necessary skills by other means.

To have a bachelor degree. The initial competences are in accordance with the final competences of BA3 (Oriental languages and cultures – field of study: India, China, Japan, Arabic and Islamic Studies).

Final competences

- 1 To be able to correctly and meticulously carry out tasks in a professional context
- 2 To be able to integrate oneself in the daily activities of the internship partner in a dynamic and flexible manner
- 3 To be able to apply acquired skills from the bachelor trajectory as well as from other master courses

4 To be able to present in a critical way a written and oral report about the process and results of the internship activities

Conditions for credit contract

Access to this course unit via a credit contract is unrestricted: the student takes into consideration the conditions mentioned in 'Starting Competences'

Conditions for exam contract

This course unit cannot be taken via an exam contract

Teaching methods

Work placement

Extra information on the teaching methods

Through their internship students acquire first-hand experience in a job context and thus acquire pre-professional working experience. If the internship is related to the master dissertation, students have the opportunity to carry out fieldwork in light of their topic. At the end of the internship period students provide a written report which will be discussed orally with their tutors (microteaching). The report highlights aspects of progress related to the internship trajectory and the acquired results.

Extra information on the examination methods

Evaluation is twofold:

- written internship report with presentation
- external evaluation by the internship partner

Calculation of the examination mark

100% end-of-term assessment: 40% (written report with oral discussion) and 60% (internship partner)

Students have to pass all parts of the examination (= written report with presentation and external evaluation by the internship partner).

If one does not fulfil all hours of the internship with the internship partner, one cannot pass the evaluation.

Students who do not take part in the assessment of one or more parts of the course evaluation or obtain a mark of less than 10/20 for one of its parts cannot pass the course evaluation. Should the average mark be higher than 10/20, the final mark will be reduced to the highest non-pass mark (= 9).

Facilities for Working Students

- 1 Exemption from internship activities is not possible.
- 2 Rescheduling of the examination to a different time in the same examination period is possible.
- 3 Feedback can be given after appointment, also online.
