Keywords

Russian culture, 20th and 21st centuries, historical survey

Position of the course

This course provides a historical overview of Russian culture in all its forms and in the broadest sense of the word since the prelude to the 20th century until today against the background of the developments in politics and society.

Contents

The course sheds light on the development of Russian culture from 1880 on until today, through works of art, from popular literature to music, from photography to film. The course gives a political, socio-economic and cultural overview of the 20th and 21st centuries. The overview 1) provides the student with a broad background knowledge on the society, institutions and culture of modern Russia and 2) allows the student to create new knowledge by her/himself. The first part of the course (weeks 1-6) focuses on popular culture, while the second part of the course (weeks 7-12, in Russian) mainly focuses on high culture. The first part is taught in Dutch, the second part in Russian.
