Position of the course

In this course unit all students are given the opportunity to acquire basic vocabulary, regardless of their previous education, and the main focus is on oral and written communication and translation exercises at a basic level. Attention is also paid to correct pronunciation.

Exchange students may take up this course unit. No knowledge of Dutch is required for this course unit; however, an alternative examination is provided for exchange students. They can contact the lecturer-in-charge for more information.

Contents

The beginning student who has minimal prior knowledge of German, acquires the basic vocabulary that is built upon in the parallel course in the 2nd semester. The vocabulary is practised in combination with the grammar acquired in Language

- 2 Recognising and independently interpreting language structures and language variation of German, with close attention to contrastive aspects compared to Dutch.
- 3 Having knowledge and understanding of the cultural and institutional context of the German language area and of the intercultural relations and differences, and applying these to the interpretation, translation and production of written and oral texts.
- 4 Having a strong language awareness and developing a sensitivity to the similarities, differences and interactions between cultures.
