Position of the course

The course unit 'oral communication in cultural context' builds on the language competences from the first bachelor year to consolidate them.

Contents

In this course unit, students learn to communicate effectively in general and cultural situations in which French is used. The lectures are highly practice-oriented and provide the tools for fluent, idiomatic and grammatically correct interaction in a French-speaking environment. Starting from authentic documents and situations, listening, speaking and conversation skills are practised. In addition, vocabulary is rehearsed independently in the context of the topics covered, enabling the student to perform communicative tasks properly. The student is in weekly contact with a student from a French-speaking university to practise the language. By means of a portfolio, the student also learns to reflect critically on his individual language skills and eliminate any gaps.

Initial competences

The final objectives of the various French units of study of the first bachelor year.

Final competences

- 1 Be able to understand and orally rephrase audiovisual and textual fragments.
- 2 Use a knowledge of different social domains of the French-speaking world in oral production.
- 3 Be able to communicate correctly verbally on everyday (topical) issues.
- 4 Give short oral presentations, demonstrating a good command of French grammar, vocabulary and pronunciation, adapting language use to suit purpose and audience.
- 5 Have insight into similarities and differences between Dutch- and French-speaking culture.

Conditions for credit contract

Access to this course unit via a credit contract is determined after successful competences assessment

Conditions for exam contract

This course unit cannot be taken via an exam contract

Teaching methods

Group work, Seminar, Independent work

Extra information on the teaching methods

Students prepare a number of topic-related tasks. During the lectures, the acquired skills are practised through all kinds of oral activities, both individual and group, e. g. dialogues, group discussions, presentations, oral translation, reformulation of audiovisual and textual fragments, In addition, they study independently the vocabulary covered in the context of the topics covered, which enables them to perform communicative tasks appropriately. They also prepare a portfolio independently.
