Keywords

literature, Dutch, twentieth and twenty-first century

Position of the course

The course discusses important works of narrative fiction from the twentieth and twenty-first century. These texts are analysed, interpreted and contextualized.

Contents

Every year a distinct theme, genre, or (group of) author(s) is dealt with, starting from a representative corpus of texts. Special attention is paid to authors and texts that have contributed significantly to the innovation of Dutch fiction in the modern period. The analysis and interpretation of texts is embedded in contemporary international theoretical discussions.

Initial competences

The student is fully versed in the history of Dutch literature and of the most important poetical developments. He or she is acquainted with the principles of literary theory and criticism.

Final competences

- 1 The student has acquired insight into the literary context of Dutch Post-War fiction
- 2 The student can produce an in-depth analysis of literary texts.
- 3 The student can use literary theory to analyse literary texts.
- 4 The student can report the acquired insights efficiently and correctly.
- 5 The student is able to draw theoretical conclusions from a literary analysis in a critical way.
- 6 The student displays an advanced knowledge of Dutch in written and oral communication.
