Position of the course

The unit of study "Turkish: Translation techniques" (T3VT) aims to give the students an insight into the translation process from Turkish to Dutch, emphasize the importance of cultural aspects in translation and to train them in using the correct translation routines. Students are taught to use specific heuristic resources and to support a written translation in a responsible manner (parallel texts, bibliography, ...)

Contents

The unit of study "Turkish: Translation techniques" (T3VT) is thematically ordered and focuses on translating from Turkish to Dutch. A theoretical introduction (a survey of translation routines illustrated with translated texts and with an adequate use of dictionaries and other heuristic resources) is followed by translation tasks (with sociocultural content, varied in style, text genre and register) with group review. The students also receive a reading assignment.
