Position of the course

The course unit "Translation Russian-English" (XTRE) is geared towards native speakers of Russian and non-native speakers with advanced knowledge of Russian. The students learn how to translate Russian texts on general topics into idiomatic English.

Contents

The course unit "Translation Russian-English" (XTRE) begins with a general introduction on Russian-English translation, focusing on both syntactic and semantic transformations and also on the use of relevant dictionaries and electronic aids.

During the second part of the course students make Russian-English translations of newspaper and magazine articles on general topics, making maximum use of parallel texts in the process.

Initial competences

Having a command of Russian at native speaker level or C2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages for comprehension.

Having a command of English at B2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages for writing skills.

Final competences

- 1 Having a command of English grammar and applying that knowledge. [B.1.2.; assessed]
- 2 Having an understanding of the lexical structures of English, with attention for contrastive aspects compared to Russian. [B.1.3.; assessed]
- 3 Having an understanding of the problems encountered in the translation of Russian texts into English, with special attention for lexical, grammatical and stylistic phenomena and specific culture-related phenomena. [B.1.6.; assessed]
- 4 Adequately translating Russian text into English on the basis of a thorough knowledge of grammar and vocabulary, with special attention for lexical, grammatical and stylistic phenomena and specific culture-related phenomena. [B.6.4.; assessed]
- 5 Having knowledge of relevant dictionaries, reference works and electronic aids, using them adequately and efficiently and critically evaluating them. [B.6.5.; assessed]
