Position of the course

The aim of the course unit is to give students an insight into the various modalities of audiovisual translation, and to provide them with relevant translation skills and competences. Special attention is paid to the translation process (from commissioner to target audience) and to the changes, both linguistic and cultural, which scripts undergo during the translation process.

Important: to participate in this course, students are required to have a subscription to the paid subtitling software SubtitleNEXT. There are two options for acquiring the license:

- 1 Students can purchase or rent a license at their own expense (estimated purchase price: 423.50 EUR, estimated monthly rental cost: 84.70 EUR). Students may inquire about any available student discounts or obtain specific quotes via SubtitleNEXT.
- 2 Students can rent a license via our department for the entire semester (+ the resit examination period, if necessary) for a total amount of 35 EUR (20% overhead charge by UGent included).

Since it requires some administration to get all the licenses in order, we ask you to register for this course through Oasis no later than September 1, 2024. Only when we have an overview of all the participants, we can start the payment procedure for hiring the licenses. Those who have paid will be allocated a license via e-mail. The deadline to pay for the license is September 30, 2024. Students who have not paid before the deadline, cannot be guaranteed access to this course.

Initial competences

Learning outcomes B3

Final competences

- 1 Having native speaker level of Dutch and a command of two foreign languages at a C1+ level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages for comprehension (listening and reading) [MV.1.1.; assessed].
- 2 Being able to translate into Dutch different kinds of materials for different kinds of media (film dialogues, opera, documentaries). Being able to analyse a source document for appropriate reformulation in line with the communicative needs in order to provide 'a fit for purpose translation', taking into account client specifications and guidelines, working to and respecting deadlines [MV.1.2; assessed].
- 3 Having advanced knowledge of the cultural and institutional backgrounds of the relevant language areas and based on that knowledge, critically reflecting on intercultural differences [MV.1.3; assessed]
- 4 Having advanced knowledge of translation studies and, based on that knowledge, reflecting on translation as a process and as a product [MV.1.4; assessed].
- 5 Critically applying theoretical models and methods of analysis to complex problems [MV.2.3.; not assessed].
- 6 Critically analysing and justifying the translation solutions and choices in complex professional contexts, implementing instructions, style guides and conventions relevant to multimodal translation [MV.2.3; assessed].
- 7 In the translation process, adequately applying an advanced degree of contrastive linguistic expertise at different levels (lexically, grammatically, textually, pragmatically) [MV.6.2.; assessed].
- 8 During the translation process, making use of the most relevant IT applications, specialized software and electronic resources, especially as subtitling is concerned, including (pre)process and manage special files [MV.6.4; assessed].
