Position of the course

In the study unit "Dutch: oral expression skills" the students learn to use the registers of spoken Dutch relevant in the context of interpreting. They are familiar with the lexical, structural and style characteristics of relevant oral communication forms and learn to optimize their verbal and non-verbal speaking behaviour. They express themselves fluently in correct Dutch.

Contents

The study unit "Dutch: oral expression skills" has a linear learning curve and wants to enhance students' ability to use alternatives both for word(groups) and sentences. For that purpose the students are given formulating exercises (improvisation, discussion) and reformulating exercises. Throughout the course, attention is given to spoken standard Dutch.

Attention is also paid to the main aspects of presentational behaviour of interpreters, such as pronunciation, articulation, breathing technique and voice control, prosody, eye contact and posture. The students learn to assess their own presentational behaviour through recorded role play and get to practise the different sub-skills.

Initial competences

The student is a native speaker of Dutch (or has an equivalent competence in Dutch) and has acquired the general competences that may be expected from an academic bachelor.

Final competences

- 1 Developing linguistic feeling and active language use by increasing vocabulary acquisition (individual words, collocations, expressions) and active mastering of grammatical structures. [MT.6.2 assessed]
- 2 Reformulating Dutch sentences fluently in as many ways as possible and in different professional environments. [MT 6.1; MT 6.2; MT 6.5 assessed]
- 3 Applying insights into lexical and syntactic forms and structures orally in a way that s/he can function to the best of his/her ability in the relevant professional context (i.e community interpreting, court interpreting, business interpreting, cultural events interpreting). [MT 6.1; MT 6.2; MT 6.5 assessed]
- 4 Applying reformulating strategies with a view to improving the effectiveness of interpreting. [MT 6.5]
- 5 Improving verbal and non-verbal presentation skills with a view to improving the effectiveness of interpreting. [MT 6.5]
- 6 Evaluating a formulation performance simultaneously in order to improve the effectiveness of interpreting. [MT.6.5]
