Keywords

Low Countries, Institutions, cross-cultural

Position of the course

In the study unit 'Society and institutions of the Low Countries' the political, social and cultural institutions in Flanders and the Netherlands are studied especially from a comparative perspective, with an emphasis on the current situation. The institutions are situated within the scope of the general culture of both countries and within the current reflection about the cultural identity. In addition, their origin is studied from a historical point of view if necessary. The learning content is made concrete by means of current journalistic articles and other texts that are discussed during the lectures. There will also be some visual material.

Initial competences

The student has acquired the final objectives of different Dutch study units of the second bachelor year in Applied Linguistics..

Final competences

- 1 Having a command of Dutch at professional native speaker level in terms of comprehension, oral and writing skills. (B.1.1 assessed)
- 2 Having knowledge and understanding of the theories related to applied language studies, in particular in the field of intercultural communication studies (B.1.4 assessed)
- 3 Having knowledge and understanding of the cultural and institutional context of the Dutch language area and for the intercultural relations and differences between Flanders and the Netherlands (B.1.5 assessed).
- 4 Having a strong language awareness and developing a sensitivity to the similarities, differences and interactions between cultures that are part of the same language area (B.3.1 assessed)
- 5 Critically reflecting on their own thinking, learning, decisions and actions, in particular on cultural axioms, the "mind's own software" (Hofstede), so that the students' ability to think like a critical and independent intellectual, to develop their own viewpoint and vision of current social topics, is further honed (B.3.3 not assessed)
- 6 Displaying intellectual curiosity, in particular concerning historical and recent developments within the society of the Low Countries; and a lifelong learning attitude, (B3.4 non assessed)
- 7 Based on acquired competences, acting correctly and tactfully in different communicative situations, based on an understanding of similarities, differences and interactions between cultures. (B.5.2 non assessed)
- 8 Adequately interpreting and analysing written and oral communication, in particular texts with culture-specific references (press articles and essays). (B.6.1 assessed)
