Teaching languages

Dutch

Keywords

Dutch as a foreign language, LSP, economic, business, language acquisition, grammar, vocabulary, communicative skills

Position of the course

The students acquire basic communicative skills in Dutch in a general economic and business context.

The course will enable the students to bring their basic Dutch language skills into practice.

This way it contributes to a positive integration of non native speakers into the academic education of economics and to a thorough preparation for Dutch economic contacts.

Contents

In the first term the students take part in workshops focused on basic knowledge and skills. After the workshops they are expected to be able to steer and, if necessary, remedy their own language learning process.

In the second term we focus on selected economics- and business-related language tasks: the presentation, the cv, the application letter and the job interview.

During the year we look at business texts which students present to each other.

Initial competences

The students should have a basic practical knowledge of Dutch (oral as well as written), corresponding to level B1 of the Common European Framework.

In addition, they are expected to have sufficient understanding and relevant attitudes for learning to communicate in Dutch in a general economic and business context.

Students need permission from the teacher to enrol for this course. Admission is determined during an interview at the start of term.

Final competences

1 Acquire and be able to actively use key economic vocabulary in Dutch.

(Approved)

- 2 Being able to apply grammar rules in a general economic and business context in Dutch.
- 3 Being able to take part in a job interview in Dutch.
- 4 Being able to write a cv in Dutch.
- 5 Being able to write an application letter in Dutch.
- 6 Being able to write business letters in Dutch.
- 7 Being able to read and understand recent articles on business and society in Dutch;
- 8 Being able to use a number of tools (dictionaries, on-line resources) in Dutch;
- 9 Being able to give a presentation in Dutch;
- 10 Gaining insight in one's own language acquisition process and how it can be remedied.
- 11 making business-related phonecalls
