Teaching methods

Guided self-study, Lecture

Extra information on the teaching methods

In preparation of certain lectures, students will be asked to search and read judgments of the EU Court of Justice; during these lectures, students will be expected to explain the key points of these judgments (with comments regarding the relevant legal questions and the arguments used by the parties and the Court) as a basis for a group discussion regarding the issue at stake. The reading assignment and the list of judgments will be announced via Ufora.

Learning materials and price

Syllabus and relevant course material will be posted on Ufora.

Extra information on the examination methods

Periodic evaluation: written exam with a combination of essay questions and short open questions. Students will be asked to comments upon a number of statements and to explain basic concepts of EU law. Students are allowed to use an extract of the EU Treaties at the exam.

Non-periodic evaluation (20 %): students prepare a short comment (3-5 pages) about a selected judgment.

Calculation of the examination mark

Periodic evaluation: 80 % (written exam) - non-periodic evaluation: 20 % second exam period: only possible for the periodic evaluation (written exam). Students retain their score for the non-periodic evaluation

Facilities for Working Students

Students having the statute of 'work student' can get an alternative assignment for the non-permanent evaluation if they cannot attend classes.
